

LOCAL STYLE

The latest addition to the Born's growing fashion scene is the stylish MTX shop on Carrer Rec, which opened its doors just a month ago. Local designer Mertxe Hernández started her own brand, MTX, four years ago and since then has attracted attention from local and international press, as well as lending her creations to film and television. Her collections are innovative and creative, but with enough emphasis on cut, comfort and quality to allow them to be accessible off the cat walk too. Catch her winter collection sales for wonderful textures that can be worn well into the spring.
